May 21, 2020

Dear Parents of Utah Challenger Students,

I'm pleased to announce that we will be offering modified on-campus summer camps beginning Monday, May 26, 2020. As we open our doors, we do so carefully and in adherence with established COVID-19 safety guidelines.

One of the main differences between the summer program we usually offer and our new modified program is that you can enroll your children for weekly camps that fit into your summer schedule. You attend and pay only for the weeks you need.

Camp hours will be from 8:00–5:00 for our all-day programs and approximately 8:30–11:30 for our half-day programs.

As always, our camps will offer helpful in-person review and learning exercises as well as fun outdoor activities.

Your child can attend the on-campus summer camp and retain access to the last two weeks of academic year on-line learning materials. However, at the summer camp, those and other concepts will be taught in person by teachers. If you choose to have your kindergarten–eighth grade child take advantage of both the on-campus and on-line opportunities, you will only be charged for the on-campus summer camp.

If you'd like to have your child attend summer camp, access the enrollment application here. Print and complete the application, and inform the campus staff that you are ready to submit your application. There is no application fee for summer camps.

Before you submit your application, read the Challenger School Policies Handbook for Parents. Pay particular attention to the updated summer camp policies on page 9 and the updated tuition rates on page 13. Additionally, we will be implementing Challenger COVID-19 Practices.

We're excited that we are able to open our doors for an on-campus summer camp, and we look forward to having you join us.

Call your campus administration with any questions.

Sincerely,

Dave Walton
Utah Executive Region Director
