June 22, 2020

Dear Parents,

Many of you are asking about our plans for fall. Since our campuses are now open for summer camps, we anticipate being open for on-campus learning this fall as well. As of today, we are ready and prepared for your children to return to our campuses in August. We will continue to comply with the increased safety and screening measures and practice intensified cleaning directives to offer the best possible conditions for our students and staff.

Additionally, since we've all lived through several months of constantly changing circumstances, we are prepared to continue our online learning program if conditions warrant it. Those of you who are currently participating in our summer online learning are aware that we have recently added the Live Meet feature to our program. This enhanced interactive feature allows teachers and students to discuss lessons together and see each other's smiling faces.

This improvement enriches the online learning environment and provides more interaction if in-person instruction is not an option.

We understand that your child's education is a priority for you—please know that your child's education is a priority for us as well. We are committed to providing you and your child the quality Challenger education you expect. There is so much at stake, and we are ready.

Sincerely,

Hugh Gourgeon
CEO
